Delayed or damaged baggage

We work hard to ensure your checked baggage arrives with you. If it is delayed, please be assured we'll do our best to deliver it to you within 24 hours. If you can't locate your checked baggage upon arrival, please follow the steps outlined on our website.

- If your baggage is delayed, damaged, or lost, Air Canada will refund the fees you paid to check it in.
- In respect to destruction, loss, delay, or damage to baggage, a carrier's liability is limited to 1,519 Special Drawing Rights per passenger. This limit applies to most international itineraries, as well as to domestic itineraries within Canada. For more information on Special Drawing Rights and currency exchange rates, visit the International Monetary Fund  website.
- You will be reimbursed for reasonable interim out-of-pocket expenses upon submitting your receipts via our webform  (select Baggage Issues > Baggage > Submit Expenses). Claims must be submitted no later than 21 days from the date your baggage was placed at your disposal.

If a flight is delayed or cancelled due to an unforeseen problem, we'll do our best to keep you well-informed at the airport and on board the affected aircraft. That's why you must provide your contact information at the time of booking.

Based on the information available, we will promptly provide timely updates, including the reason for the delay or cancellation:

- As soon as we're aware of such a delay or cancellation, and then;
- At regular intervals of 30 minutes until a new departure time for the flight is set, or new travel arrangements for passengers have been made; and
- As soon as possible when new information is available.

In the event of an extended delay or a cancellation

Note: This section applies to flights operated by Air Canada, Air Canada Rouge and Air Canada Express flights. Please note that if you're travelling on a codeshare flight (operated by another airline), you must contact the carrier directly, as the obligation to provide compensation and alternate travel arrangements is the responsibility of the carrier operating the flight which was delayed or cancelled.

Some delays and cancellations are within an airline's control, whereas others, like those caused by severe weather or airport and air traffic disruptions, are simply out of our hands. Whatever the reason for the delay or cancellation, if your Air Canada, Air Canada Rouge or Air Canada Express flight is delayed or cancelled, our agents will do everything possible to assist you.

1. Standards of Treatment:

When a flight is delayed or cancelled due to reasons within Air Canada's control or required for safety purposes, and (i) you have been informed of the delay or cancellation less than 12 hours before the departure time indicated on your ticket, and (ii) you have waited two hours after the departure time indicated on your ticket, we'll provide you with the following:

- Food and drink in reasonable quantities, considering the length of the wait, the time of day and location;
- Access to a means of communication; and
- Hotel or comparable accommodations for overnight delays, for out of town passengers, subject to availability and within reasonable distance from airport, along with transportation to the hotel or other accommodation, and back to the airport.

If the delay is outside of Air Canada's control, we'll be happy to offer you our hotel contact information where you can access our valued customer rates.

2. Alternative Travel Arrangements:

If your flight is delayed by three hours or more or cancelled because of a situation that's outside of our control, here's how your travel plans will be accommodated:

- We'll rebook you on the next available Air Canada, Air Canada Rouge, or Air Canada Express flight, or on one of our partner airlines on a reasonable route from the same airport, within 48 hours of your original departure time; or
- If we cannot do this, we'll re-route you on any carrier via any reasonable air route to your destination or re-route you from another airport that is within a reasonable distance of your departure airport to your destination (if any). If your new departure is from such an airport, Air Canada will arrange for your transportation to that other airport.
- We can also change your return to match the same length of stay if necessary.

- We'll rebook you on the next available Air Canada, Air Canada Rouge, or Air Canada Express flight, or on one of our partner airlines within 9 hours of your original departure time; or
- If we cannot do this, we'll re-route you on any carrier via any reasonable air route to your destination that departs within 48 hours of your original departure time; or
- If we're still unable to provide a confirmed reservation that complies with the above, we'll seek to re-route you from another airport that is within a reasonable distance of your departure airport to your destination (if any). If your new departure is from such an airport, Air Canada will arrange for your transportation to that other airport.
- We can also change your return to match the same length of stay if necessary.
- If none of the rebooking options provided to you accommodate your needs, and your flight is disrupted by three hours or more, or cancelled, we can refund the unused portion of your ticket. If your travel no longer serves a purpose as a result of the delay or cancellation, we can also return you to your point of origin and refund the used portion.

We invite you to read more information on delays, cancellations and refunds, or to consult our tariffs.

3. Compensation

If you're a passenger whose flight was cancelled or delayed because of a situation within our control, and you arrive at your original destination with a delay of three hours or more, you'll be entitled to receive compensation for delays and cancellations from Air Canada (unless you are informed of the cancellation or of the delay 15 days before the scheduled time of departure).

Compensation for delays and cancellations is calculated based on your arrival time at final destination and is $400 CAD (for delays at arrival between 3 and 6 hours), $700 CAD (for delays at arrival between 6 and 9 hours), and $1,000 CAD (for delays at arrival by 9 hours and more).

If you refuse the alternate travel arrangements offered because travelling no longer serves a purpose, and the delay is within our control, you'll be entitled to receive compensation of $400 CAD.

Please note that you are not entitled to receive delay or cancellation compensation if you have already been paid denied boarding compensation, or if you have already been paid under another passenger rights regime for the same event.

4. Your Recourses:

Should you wish to provide feedback or file a complaint about our services, please complete our web form  and we'll contact you shortly. You may also file a complaint with the Canadian Transportation Agency .

Seating children with family

Air Canada will do everything possible to ensure children under the age of 14 are seated close to their accompanying family member free of charge.

Air Canada has a comprehensive policy that ensures every reasonable effort is made by Air Canada's airport staff, flight attendants and through in-flight procedures, to seat children under the age of 14 next to their accompanying adult. Please note that this policy does not apply to families who have opted to pay the advance seat selection fee.

Passengers travelling in Signature Class pods must call Air Canada Reservations to ensure that they're provided with proper family seating.

Air Canada will cancel any purchased ticket and provide a full refund without penalty up to 24 hours after purchase. Beyond 24 hours, voluntary changes to your itinerary may require the payment of additional fees and fare upgrades. If you are travelling on a non-refundable ticket, we won't be able to make exceptions in the event of an unexpected trip cancellation or medical emergency.

We recommend the purchase of travel insurance.

Important Notices

Passengers on a journey involving an ultimate destination or a stop in a country other than the country of departure are advised that international treaties known as the Montreal Convention, or its predecessor, the Warsaw Convention (including its amendments) may apply to the entire journey, including any portion thereof within a country. For such passengers, the applicable treaty, including special contracts of carriage embodied in any applicable tariffs, governs and may limit the liability of the carrier.

Notice of liability limitations

The Montreal Convention or the Warsaw Convention system may be applicable to your journey and these Conventions govern and may limit the liability of air carriers for death or bodily injury, for loss, delay, or damage to baggage.

Where the Montreal Convention applies, the limits of liability are as follows:

1. There are no financial limits in respect of death or bodily injury of passengers.
2. In respect of destruction, loss of, or damage or delay to baggage 1,519 Special Drawing Rights (approximately EUR 1,900; US $2,000) per passenger in most cases.
3. In respect of damage occasioned by delay in the carriage of persons 6,303 Special Drawing Rights (approximately EUR 7,700; US $8,300) per passenger in most cases.

Where the Warsaw Convention system applies, the limits of liability are as follows:

1. 16,600 Special Drawing Rights with respect to death or bodily injury if the Hague Protocol to the Convention applies, or 8,300 Special Drawing Rights if only the Warsaw Convention applies. Many carriers have voluntarily waived these limits in their entirety, and U.S. regulations require that, for journeys to, from or with an agreed stopping place in the U.S., the limit may not be inferior to U.S. $75,000.
2. 17 Special Drawing Rights per kg for loss of or damage or delay to checked baggage and 332 Special Drawing Rights* for unchecked baggage.
3. The carrier may also be liable for damage caused by delay.

For more information on Special Drawing Rights and currency exchange rates, visit the International Monetary Fund ↗

Time limit for action: Any action in court to claim damages must be brought within two years from the date of arrival of the aircraft, or from the date on which the aircraft ought to have arrived.

Baggage claims: Written notice to the carrier must be made within 7 days of the receipt of checked baggage in the case of damage, and, in the case of delay, within 21 days from the date on which it was placed at the disposal of the passenger.

Baggage Fee: For lost, damaged or delayed baggage, the carrier will also compensate you for any fees that may have been paid to check that baggage.

Notice of contract terms incorporated by reference

Your contract of carriage with the carrier that provides you with carriage by air, whether international, domestic or a domestic portion of an international journey, is subject to this notice; to any notice or receipt of the carrier; and to the carrier's individual terms and conditions (Conditions), related rules, regulations and policies (Regulations) and any applicable tariffs.

If your carriage is by more than one carrier, different Conditions, Regulations and any applicable tariffs may apply for each carrier.

The Conditions, Regulations and any applicable tariffs of each carrier are, by this notice, incorporated by reference into and made part of your contract of carriage.

The Conditions may include, but are not restricted to:

- Conditions and limits on the carrier's liability for the bodily injury or death of passengers.
- Conditions and limits on the carrier's liability for the loss of, damage to or delay of goods and baggage, including fragile or perishable goods.
- Rules for declaring a higher baggage value and for paying any supplementary fee that may apply.
- Application of the carrier's Conditions and limits of liability to the acts of the carrier's agents, servants and representatives, including any person providing either equipment or services to the carrier.
- Claims restrictions, including time limits by which passengers must file claims or bring actions against the carrier.
- Rules about reconfirmations or reservations; check-in times; the use, duration and validity of air transportation services; and the carrier's right to refuse carriage.
- Rights of the carrier and limits on the carrier's liability for delay or failure to perform a service, including schedule changes, substitution of alternative carriers or aircraft and re-routing, and, when required by applicable law, the obligation of the carrier to notify passengers of the identity of the operating carrier or substituted aircraft.
- Rights of the carrier to refuse carriage to passengers who fail to comply with applicable laws or who fail to present all necessary travel documents.

You can obtain more information about your contract of carriage, and find out how to request a copy, at places where transportation on the carrier is sold. Many carriers also have this information on their websites. When required by applicable law, you have the right to inspect the full text of your contract of carriage at the carrier's airport and sales offices, and to receive a copy by mail or other delivery service from each carrier free of charge, upon request.

If a carrier sells air transportation services or checks baggage specifying carriage on another carrier, it does so only as an agent for the other carrier.
